

Jigsy introduces e-mail and domain hosting packages

PARKSVILLE, BC – June 8, 2010 –Jigsy.com. is pleased to announce that inclusion of e-mail and domain hosting to its lineup of products. Starting today all Jigsy members can register domain, manage those domains and setup their own hosted e-mail solution all with Jigsy.

E-mail Hosting

“We have been getting numerous requests from users for the ability to host e-mail and we are pleased to be able to include the e-mail hosting with this new release of Jigsy,” says Jerrett Taylor, Lead of Development. “Now more than ever Jigsy is positioned to be the single source for businesses to design, build and maintain their web presence,” continues Taylor. New and existing Jigsy members can now add e-mail hosting to any of the paid plans for $10 a year per domain name.

The features available with the e-mail hosting package are as follows:

- POP/IMAP and webmail access
- 1GB of storage per mailbox
- Unlimited number of mailboxes per domain
- Virus and Spam protection
- E-mail forwarders and auto-responders

Jigsy users can now configure email hosting on all of their registered domains, and even domains not registered with Jigsy.

Domain Names

The new release of Jigsy also brings built in support for registering and hosting domain names. Jigsy users and partners can now register and host their own domain names from within the Jigsy website builder. “The most common support questions we have been fielding are related to setting up a domain. Integrated domain management makes it even easier for Jigsy users to set up their website,” said Tim Burke, Lead Customer Support.
